

Jeff McMullan serves as the Sector Director of the AAS Defense SOCOM Sector. Jeff brings to this role significant experience leading teams of acquisition and project management professionals, most recently as the Acquisition Division Director (ADD) for the Army Sector at GSA AAS Defense. He began his contracting career at GSA's Kansas City office before transferring to AAS Defense in 2012. He oversees a staff handling a robust portfolio supporting USSOCOM.

Jeff earned his Bachelor's in Business Administration from the University of Mississippi and his M.B.A. from the University of Missouri. Jeff's leadership and contributions have been recognized within GSA and across the federal Government through GSA's Administrator's Award for Excellence, AFCEA's Bethesda's Emerging Government Leader of the Year, and NCMA's Advancing Professional Award.

His certifications include active Top Secret/Sensitive Compartmented Information Clearance, FAC-C Level III, FAC-COR Level III, Certified Professional Contracts Administrator (NCMA), and Project Management Professional (PMI).

